

being the poster child

is our greener future.

Waste Reduction Hero, Skye Taylor Association of Early Childhood Educators (AECENL)

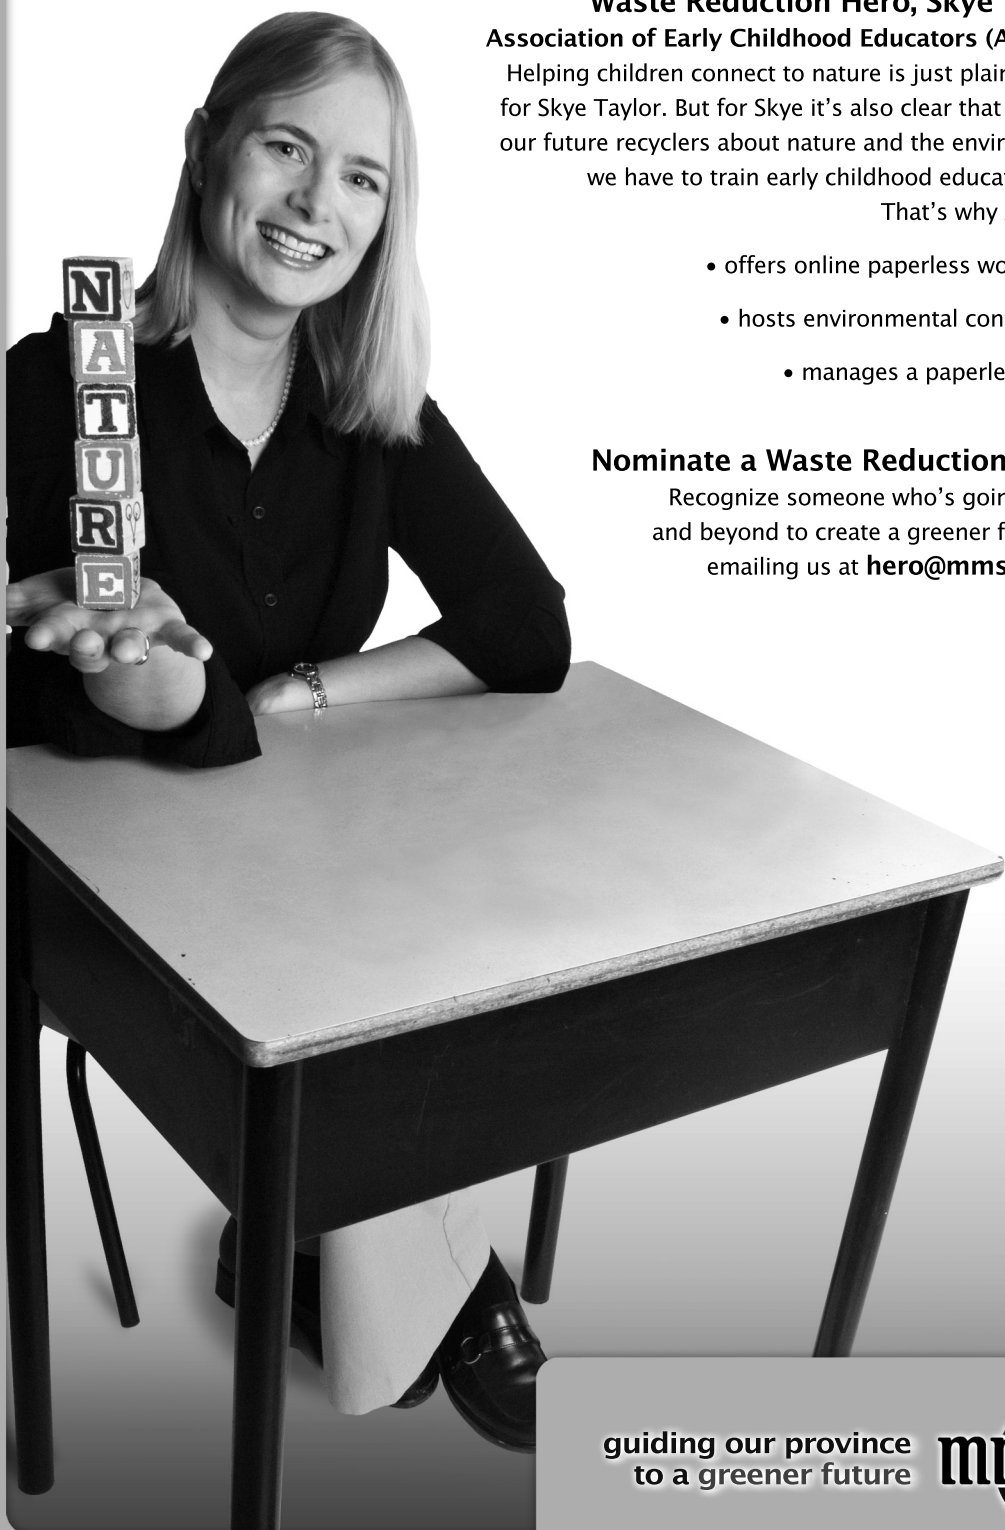

Helping children connect to nature is just plain natural for Skye Taylor. But for Skye it's also clear that to teach our future recyclers about nature and the environment, we have to train early childhood educators too.

That's why AECENL:

- offers online paperless workshops
- hosts environmental conferences
- manages a paperless office
