

bringing the classroom outdoors

is our greener future.

Waste Reduction Hero, Margaret Mckean
Outdoor Education Coordinator, Western Newfoundland School District

With Gros Morne National Park as your backdrop, it's hard not to be inspired to protect this province. That's why Margaret and the team at the Western School District run a diverse outdoor education program, covering all the regular school subjects, while immersing children in nature. Through the program, children are given a chance to appreciate nature, inspiring them to take action to keep their home and school environments clean. And, with hands-on activities and moving the lessons outdoors, they've given over 12,000 grade 5 students the environmental awareness to ensure a greener future.
