

a greener christmas

is our greener future.

Waste Reduction Hero, Terry McNeil (Green Santa) Conservation Corps

Christmas is the season of caring, sharing, and... excessive packaging waste. As the seasonal spokesperson for Conservation Corps, Green Santa spreads the message of going greener by going leaner on non-reusable materials. And a lot of his tips are win-win! Shopping locally at craft fairs and flea markets, to avoid packaging, supports your local artists and economy. Compost food scraps all winter and be ready for gardening when the snow melts. Just like Christmas, waste reduction can be all about giving and getting in return! One last tip from Green Santa: Buy gifts that come in little to no packaging, and wrap them with newsprint or use reusable gift bags.
